Event Report

Date : - 15/04/2015
Day : - Wednesday
Time : - 9.00 p.m.
Activity : - Onsite Mock Drill
Target Group : - IOCL Staff members
Number of Participants : - 45
Facilitators : - IOCL personnel

Brief Summary:

IOCL had organized a Fire drill in order to sensitize and train their staff about the behavior expected at the time of emergency situation which will help them reduce the impact of such incident on their physical and mental health. Mock drill started with the fire blast due to oil leakage in plant and all the line departments were in action to keep the response time as short as possible. The control room staff informed all the concerned departments whose help can be sought at the time of emergency to control the situation. Everyone acted very nicely and the response time was maintained but the only drawback was the message about the drill was already conveyed to the concerned departments so the actual response mechanism was not tested. The Drill ended with the de-briefing session.
